Debaters to Begin Year's Work Tonite

Lawrence Negative Tackles Carroll Here; Affirmative Journeys Into Ripon Camp

Lawrence debaters are staging their first battles of the season in a triangular meet with Carroll and Ripon colleges at seven-thirty o'clock to-night when the blue negative meets Carroll affirmative here in Peabody hall, and Lawrence affirmative meets Ripon negative at Ripon.

The problem to be debated is that of national application of the Huber plan for unemployment prevention, the question stated as follows: "Resolved that congress shall enact a federal law embodying the essential provisions of the Huber bill, constitutionality conceded."

The problem of insuring against unemployment is creating a great deal of interest all over the country. Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been loaning continually a book in its possession which describes the plan worked out by the English government and the results of actual practice. It is the only edition in this part of the country and although it was new this fall, it is now practically worn out with constant use by borrowers from all over Wisconsin.

The Huber bill now before the Wisconsin legislature provides for compensation during layoff periods for workers receiving less than $1,500 a year, and at the rate of one dollar per day for thirteen weeks each year.

Competition Keen

The contests to-night with Both Carroll and Ripon will be hard fought. Carroll has the best teams she has sent out for a number of years and Ripon is confident that she will humble her Blue and White opponents for the first time in history. Both Lawrence affirmative and negative teams have but one veteran man to form the nucleus around which Coach Franzke has built his teams.

Dan Hardt, who has never lost a debate in two years of work on Lawrence teams, is the leader of the negative which meets Carroll here. The other two men are Chester Seftenberg and Gordon Clapp. Seftenberg gained experience with the Oshkosh Normal school team last year, while Clapp gains his initial experience to-night.

The affirmative team is headed by Willard Henoch, who debated last year on the negative trio with Karl Trever, '22, and Hardt, which won five debates against the strongest teams in Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Oregon. Winifred Bird, and Harry Hoeffel, both of whom are new figures in the field of college forensics, are making the trip to Ripon with Henoch. Bird debated with River Falls Normal school last year.

The second triangle in which Lawrence will participate will be with Albion college of Michigan and Illinois Wesleyan of Bloomington, on March 14.

Want Everyone Out

The debate will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock to-night and every Lawrentian is urged to be there. The judges will be: Prof. Watson of White-water Normal school, Prof. Winnie of Milwaukee Normal School, and President Sims of Stevens Point Normal school.

Near East Seeking American Teachers

American college graduates are in demand as teachers in Near-East institutions, according to a letter received by Dr. Samuel Plantz from the American Headquarters of Near East colleges at New York.

Roberts College at Constantinople, the American University of Birent, and the Constantinople Women's college are interesting places to teach both on account of their tradition and their international student body, he said.

Successful candidates are required to sign a three-year contract. The salary is $600 and living expenses with transportation paid both ways.

Dr. J. H. Tippet, Superintendent of the Appleton district of the Methodist Episcopal church, will speak before the Oxford club at its next meeting at the home of Dr. J. A. Holmes on Lawrence street, March 4.

Sherwood Eddy, Ill, Unable to Come

Because of the sudden illness of Dr. Sherwood Eddy, the world noted Christian leader, who was to speak at Lawrence this week, it was practically certain at time of going to press that the evangelistic meetings planned for Wednesday and today would not be held.

Dr. Eddy is seriously ill at Madison, it was announced on Monday, and while there was no definite cancellation it was practically certain he would be unable to keep his dates, according to announcement of William Kiessling, '25, president of Young Men's Christian association, which organization was sponsoring Dr. Eddy's appearance here.

No future plans for his coming to Lawrence had been made.

Men Singers Are Warmly Received in Home Concert

Before a capacity audience which kept the big auditorium vibrating with its great applause after each number, Lawrence men's glee club, just returned from its annual tour of southern Wisconsin, presented one of the finest home concert programs in Lawrence glee club history in Memorial chapel Tuesday evening.

The program in itself was one of the finest ever sung in the college chapel, while the ensemble work of the club was superb and gave ample evidence of the masterly training of its director, Dean Carl J. Waterman of the conservatory faculty.

The work of the soloists, particularly that of Miss Lucille Meusel, the first woman soloist to ever appear with a Lawrence men's club, was also exceptional, and was all warmly received.

Theta Sigma Phi Honors Two for Newspaper Work

Beulah Larson, '24, and Claire Belzer, '25, were elected to Upsilon chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional and honorary fraternity for women journalists, by the active members of the organization of Lawrence college at a meeting last week.

Election to Theta Sigma Phi is based on indication of meritorious ability in journalistic work, an obvious interest of the candidate in the field of journalism, and an intention to enter some phase of the work. Both Miss Larson and Miss Belzer are members of the Lawrentian staff.

Initiation will be held the first week in April when Fox River Valley alumnae of the fraternity will meet in Appleton for the organization of an alumnae chapter.

English club held a meeting, Monday, Feb. 25, in Ormsby parlor. Ellen Tuton read "The Circle."

Henoch Given Second Place With Oration

Francis G. Bearick, Representing Beloit, Wins Wisconsin Oratorical Contest Honors

Lawrence upheld its record of long standing when Willard Henoch, '26, won a close second in the state oratorical contest of Wisconsin colleges held last Thursday night before a capacity audience in Peabody hall. Francis G. Bearick of Beloit, whose oration was "America Must Decide," won first honors and will represent Wisconsin at the divisional inter-state contest in Indianapolis this spring.

For fourteen years Lawrence orators have scored either first or second places at these state contests. The opinion of the audience in regard to the two men who placed in this contest is that Henoch's oration was superior to the Beloit man's in thought and organization, but that the state-line orator had the edge on delivery and control.

Many who attended are of the opinion that Mattock Jones of Carroll, although only a freshman, showed marked ability and would have given the two winners a close run for the honors had he been able to finish his oration, "College and Leadership," which was a plea for the recognition of the value of college-trained leaders.

Other Features

George Mecholson, Lawrence glee club soloist, sang three selections during the contest. H. F. Meyer of Beloit, president of the Wisconsin oratory league, was the presiding officer. Professors J. L. Lardner of Northwestern university, H. C. Henderson of Milwaukee normal and Dean H. S. Goodnight of the University of Wisconsin acted as judges.

George Burgan, representing Ripon, in his oration on "Sydney Carton," appealed for a greater display of the spirit of sacrifice as shown by that hero of fiction. Elmer Bingham, of Milton, in his oration, "Our Duty to the Farmer," made a plea for society's recognition of the precarious position of the farmer and for a movement to better conditions so as to encourage the farmer to keep at his job.

Topics Timely

All the orations, with the exception of the one by the Ripon man, were on subjects of momentous interest to this generation. Both of the winning selections were on the subject of America's place in the international world. Henoch emphasized the tragic outcome of the conference at Versailles and urged that America continue her place as a leader of nations. Beloit's speaker advocated American entry into the world court.

Former Lawrentian Dies After Lingering Illness

After a year of suffering with sarcoma, Dorothy Beggs, '21, died at her home in Palmyra Saturday, Feb. 23. After graduating from Lawrence in 1921, Miss Beggs taught English and History in the high school at Jefferson. Besides her sister, Minnie Beggs, a freshman at Lawrence, she leaves her mother, father and two sisters. She was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. The funeral was held Monday, February 25, at Palmyra.

Former Lawrentian Dies at Mendota; Charge Hospital Head With Cruelty

Louden Heenan, ex-'25, Janesville, who suffered a nervous breakdown while attending Lawrence last spring, and attempted to take his life by slashing both wrists with a razor and jumping into Fox river, died at Mendota early last Thursday. Heenan had been at the state institution at Mendota since January 18. His body was taken Friday to the home of his brothers at Janesville.

According to David Heenan, Janesville, brother of the dead man, the young man had a wound five inches long and two inches wide on the left side of his face, his fingers were burned, one shoulder was spored and his hands and both wrists were burned.

Because of this, and because Heenan before his death is said to have told

Literary Number is Postponed a Week

Because an insufficient amount of material was turned in, the literary supplement of The Lawrentian, sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity for men, and planned to be a part of this edition of The Lawrentian, has been postponed a week. The supplement will be a part of next week's issue, providing enough material is turned in within the next four days to make the plan feasible.

Only a few students responded to the call, which has been resounded weekly for the past month or more.

Pi Delta Epsilon is offering a prize for the best prose, and a prize for the best poetry contribution, the judging to be done by members of the faculty of the English department.

Hail, ye literati! Take advantage of this extra four days—all copy is due in the editorial office of The Lawrentian by 6 p.m. on Monday, March 3—to get YOUR contribution in this first venture of this sort this year! It can still be made a success, if YOU do your part!—and if this first attempt is a success, it will be followed by a similar undertaking again in Spring!

Four "Best Loved" Co-eds Honored at "Colonial" Dinner

Marjorie Nichol, '24, Ina Dunbar, '24, Evelyn Jarrett, '24, and Dorothy Lymer, '24, chosen by a special vote of Lawrence women as the four "best loved" girls on the campus were costumed as Martha and George Washington, and Dolly and James Madison, respectively, at the annual Colonial banquet, sponsored by Y.W.C.A., held in Methodist Episcopal church parlors, Friday evening, Feb. 22.

One hundred and twenty-five Lawrence co-eds, most of whom were in colonial costume, enjoyed the banquet and the colonial program which followed.

Marjorie Nichol, former president of Y.W.C.A. was toastmistress. Her subject was "Epochs of the Revolution." Toasts given were "The Boston Tea Party" by Ina Dunbar; "Valley Forge" by Lucy Lewis; and "The Framing of the Constitution" by Bel Dawson.

Dance Minuet

After the toasts the Minuet was danced by Ellen Kinsman, Kathryn Williams, Cora Bella Wandrey and Dorothy VonBerg. A play, "The Courtship of Madame Winthrop," given by Laura Sievert and Bernice Porterfield, concluded the program.

A report of the various committees of Y.W.C.A. was given by Marjorie Nichol, and the officers and cabinet for the coming year were announced.

The tables were decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white, with candles and yellow daffodils. Colonial dolls were given as favors.

Blue to Face Ripon, Beloit This Weekend

Meet Mills' Quint Here Saturday Afternoon; Trounce Michigan Miners, 48 to 11

Lawrence cagers face their hardest grind of the entire season this week-end. On Friday night they invade Ripon to tackle the Reds on their home floor, and on Saturday they return to go to the mat in a struggle with Coach Tommy Mill's Beloit Blue Devils, at Armory G in the afternoon.

It has been an all-season ambition of the Blue and White to put a "crimp" in the highly touted Beloit record, and the opportunity Saturday will be met with a grim relish by Denny's men. By defeating Beloit and Ripon Lawrence can end the season in a tie with Carroll for second place, and this they are firmly resolved to do.

In spite of the fact that Ripon has been defeated by Carroll twice, and by Beloit, at Beloit, Coach Denny is looking forward to a hard fought game at Ripon. Carroll, who had defeated Ripon 32 to 8 at Carroll, was pressed to win by the small score of 13 to 9 at Ripon.

The loss of Morrison has disrupted the team somewhat, but Ashman, who has taken his place, is rapidly rounding into shape and should be ready to hold up the job at pivot like a veteran in the double engagement this week-end.

On Saturday afternoon Lawrence fans should be treated to the best game, beyond a doubt, of the entire home season. Two weeks ago when Denny took his cagers to Beloit he gave the Gold one of the hardest fights of the year, and it was only superior free-throwing on the part of Mill's cagers that won the game for them.

Vondrashek, and Laffin, forwards, and McAuliffe, center, are the shining lights in the "Blue Devil" machine. Vondrashek leads the scorers in the Mid-west conference, and Laffin is high up in the ranks. Watson, McGaw, and Butler will guard the onslaught of Denny's men, and they are rated as among the best in the middle west. "Art" Wheeler, former Lawrence player, may get into the fray, as sub-center.

The game will start promptly at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, necessitated through inability to get Armory G in the evening.

Coach A. C. Denny's Blue and White cagers romped away with the Michigan School of Mines Monday evening, in Alexander Gymnasium, by the overwhelming score of 48 to 11. The Michigan aggregation succeeded in getting only two field goals, one in each half, and made their additional seven points via the free throw route.

The start of the game found the Blue and White somewhat disorganized, due to the cramped playing space in the gym, but once they started, it was only time that kept the score from mounting even higher. The fact that Kotal, star guard was out of the game due to sickness, may have been the reason for the early confusion. Briesse, who replaced him, played a splendid game, breaking up play after play, single-handed. Hul-

Illinois Man to be New Rhetoric Head

Frank W. Clippinger will succeed Prof. Harwood as head of the English composition work at Lawrence next year, according to announcement by President Samuel Plantz.

Prof. Harwood leaves to take up graduate work at Columbia university.

Miss Beach Resigns

Miss Alice Beach, assistant to the college librarian, has also resigned, it was stated at the college office, for the purpose of doing further graduate work. Her successor has not yet been announced.

Chances For Aid to Postgraduates Many

Badger Dramatic Club Coming To Appleton April 9

Those who remember the musical comedy "Kikmi" which was presented last year by Haresfoot club, dramatic organization of the University of Wisconsin, will be interested to hear that the same club will appear in the Appleton theater on the evening of April 9, with a new comedy entitled "Twinkle, Twinkle."

Its author, T. Flaxon Hall, was one of the leading players in last year's production. The lyrics and music which make up the production have been selected entirely from male student talent. This is only a part of the unique basis upon which the Haresfoot operates. The production "Twinkle, Twinkle," from book to presentation, is entirely the work of students, and every part, including the chorus and other feminine roles, is taken by male students, its slogan being "All our girls are men, but every one a lady."

The president of the club, Porter F. Butts, editor of the Daily Cardinal, interpreted the leading feminine role in last year's production. Sidney R. Thorson has charge of the management and production of "Twinkle, Twinkle." Walter A. Frautschi, president of the senior class, is advance publicity agent for the club, while E. Mortimer Shuter is coach and Mike Ames is his assistant.

Add to Itinerary

The itinerary of the club this year includes two new cities, Peoria and Indianapolis. The club has gained an enviable standing in college dramatics, having presented 25 successful productions.

Star-gazing Course Will Be Given Third Quarter

Lessons in practical star-gazing and star-identifying will be given the third quarter at the Observatory, when Prof. J. C. Lymer will hold open office every Thursday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. This spring, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn will be in evidence.

Prof. Lymer says that is good policy to come several times, once to see the moon which overshadows the stars, and once to see the stars in full brilliance.

No astronomy classes will be held this year as originally planned. Next year several classes will be held and students will be able to count astronomy toward a major in mathematics.

Mary Dunbar of Fond du Lac was the guest of her sister, Ina Dunbar, '24, at Lawrence over the week end.

LAWRENCE DEBATE LEADERS

Willard Henoch

Dan Hardt

There two Lawrentians will lead Blue debating hopes this year, opening tonight in their first triangle of the season, against Ripon and Carroll colleges, arguing the Huber Unemployment Insurance plan, nationally applied. Henoch is leader of the affirmative trio and will meet Ripon negative in that city, while Hardt, who is negative leader, will oppose Carroll affirmative in the auditorium of the conservatory. Both were members of last year's negative team which went through the season undefeated, winning five debates against the strongest colleges, forensically, in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa and Oregon. Both represented Lawrence in debate already in their freshman years, Hardt two years ago, and Henoch last season.

Those installed are: President, Florence Hector; vice-president, Florence Gray; secretary, Catherine Lightbody; treasurer, Gladys Jarrett; ass't treasurer, Alice Peterson; undergraduate representative, Florence Torrey.

Committee chairmen installed are: Social service, Margaret Lees; devotional, Ellen Tutten; publicity, Dorothy Palmer; world fellowship, Helen Getteman; social, Olive Hamar; bible study, Bernice Porterfield; extension, Louise Geiger; conservatory, Helen Strong; Geneva conference committee, Walda Rusch.

Miss Hector gave a short talk on the aims of Y.W.C.A. this year following the ceremonies. It is planned to send delegates to the national convention of the organization to be held this year at New York, April 29 to May 6.

Foreign Missionary Work Subject of Denyas' Talk

An interesting picture of missionary work being accomplished on the Malaysian Islands was presented by Dr. Denyas, head of the department of missions and religious education, at the Y.M.C.A. meeting last Sunday.

Giving as his main objective a brief sketch of the missionary work, Dr. Denyas incidentally mentioned the great field that is now open to all students interested in the teaching profession. He said, "The opportunity of getting a trip around the world, and a chance to participate in the great movement for leadership is valuable both from the

Books of English Library Popular

That students at Lawrence are making use of the English club's circulating library is shown by the fact that, of the 49 different people who have drawn books, 37 are not members of the club.

The fourteen books have been drawn a total of 106 times; 32 times by members, 55 times by women not members, 7 times by men not members, and 12 times by members of the faculty.

Women apparently read more than men, for all but 4 of the student patrons are girls, while, of the seven members of the faculty, two are women.

Buy Newest Novels

The club buys new novels which are not easily obtainable at the public library, and rents them to any students or members of the faculty at five cents a day. The library is located in Dr. McPheeter's office on the second floor of Main Hall, and is open every Monday from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

German Play Open to Public

Townpeople who understand German, as well as members of the student body, will have an opportunity to hear a play in German, when the German club presents "Unter vier Augen" in the recital hall of the Conservatory on Tuesday evening, March 4. The play is being prepared under the direction of Professor G. C. Cast of the German department, and is a one-act comedy of life in the upper classes of Germany before the war. There will be a synopsis in English for the benefit of those who do not understand German.

standpoint of service, and from the standpoint of valuable experience."

The meeting was under the direction of William Farnum.

Twenty-Seven Win In Debate League

Results of Preliminaries of High School Circuit Announced

All the high schools in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Debating league have completed their first triangles, and the winners in the first groups include Fort Atkinson, Waupun, West Bend, Washington High of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Elkhart Lake, Brillion, Kewaunee, Casco, Shiocton, Manawa, Goodman, Antigo, Oconto Falls, Portage, Lodi, Richland Center, Tomah, Arcadia, Hammond, New Richmond, Chippewa Falls Superior, Cumberland Ladysmith, Humbird, and Neilsville, according to announcement from Lawrence Public Speaking department, which sponsors the league.

Many of the decisions were very close, and there was very little to choose from between winners and losers. Nearly all the schools winning in the first triangle have won two debates, in preliminary encounters. The closest decision was in the Mondovi-Arcadia dual which was won by Arcadia by one-sixth of one per cent difference in the total judges' score received, the final score being 583 to 584.

Next on March 14

The next debates are to be held March 14, and the winners are to be grouped into triangles for the semifinals. Each winner in the next debate receives a banner. The school winning the state championship will hold the state championship and the cup which accompanies it for one year. Humbird high school won the state championship last year.

"I can't insure until I get out of debt."

Sometimes a debt is for an education. The honest man wants to pay it as soon as possible. If he continues to live he will pay it. But maybe the end will come too soon and then the creditor is never paid. Debt means obligation—the obligation to carry insurance until the debt is paid.

CONSTRUCTIVE PUNISHMENT

We were under the impression that the old rule, "Spare the rod and you spoil the child," was a disciplinary aid of the days of our fathers, gone by. But the penalty inflicted on a few students last week by the faculty discipline committee has about changed our impression.

It is our firm belief that law should be enforced. We will not tolerate any deliberate violating of national, state, city, or college laws, rules or regulations. But in meting out punishment to law breakers, we believe that such punishment should be constructive and not destructive.

The recent suspension of six students from school for two weeks with the demand that they "absent themselves from Appleton during this time" is, in our estimation, entirely the wrong way to remedy an evil. Suspension from classes and from participation in all college social functions for that period of time might in itself be alright, but it is placing an almost unsurmountable obstacle in the way of students to demand that they leave town. For in so doing they are prevented from keeping in touch with daily assignments and from preparing out of school the work they are missing. At the end of two weeks they return to find themselves lost in a swamp of make-up work and advance work to such an extent that it is not uncommon that they dunk out in one or more subjects at the end of the quarter, thereby casting three months of effort and time to the winds.

Six weeks ago a great deal of criticism came from the faculty committee on fraternities in regard to the treatment of pledges during their week "under orders." The committee argued that the present system of "orders" is entirely adverse to good and effective scholarship, that emphasis is placed on fatigue rather than on scholastic attainment. In the light of such arguments we ask whether one week of "under orders" in which the object is allowed from four to five hours study a day is more harmful and disastrous than two weeks of suspension and separation from study?

We do not wish to be misunderstood as opposing the rigid enforcement of law. We only ask that in meting out punishment to law violators, the faculty put into practice that which they advocate: constructive, instead of destructive measures. If the crime is worthy expulsion, make it outright expulsion for the balance of the term, not a "wolf in sheep's clothing" that in the end amounts to worse!

HEAR THE DEBATE

The Huber Unemployment Insurance plan is a compulsory insurance against unemployment which would compel employers to pay a definite compensation to all employees they laid off. Originally advocated by Prof. John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin, it was introduced into the Wisconsin senate by Senator Huber of Stoughton, voted upon three different times, and defeated the last time only by a majority of one vote. It is arousing national interest, being advocated by thirteen of our greatest industrial states.

Just how will this plan function? Do conditions today warrant the adoption of such a plan? Is it the best solution for remedying our unemployment situation? Can the plan be applied nationally? If adopted, will it tend to standardize economic conditions and bring the employer and employee into closer harmony with each other?

Questions like these will be thrashed out tonight in the Conservatory when our negative team meets Carroll affirmative team in the first debate of the season. Our men have made an exhaustive study of the plan for the past three months and are thoroughly prepared to uphold their case. Upper classmen in the past have profited by attending these debates. Profit by their experience and hear tonight for yourselves a thorough discussion of a plan which within a few years will be demanding the attention of every state in the Union.

Murmuring of The Elms

By AMOS

"And the Elms on the campus murmured softly."

The Modern

A Poet wrote his simple lines
Of sunsets, cottages and vines,
But people knew just what he meant—
And so he couldn't earn a cent.

Then modern cults he tried to learn,
And wrote free verse, the while to yearn
For subtle meanings, words remote,
And striving—this is what he wrote:

I long for the secrecy of lonely things
For I am attuned to the exquisite pain
Of vibrations as the violin suffers
For its gift of expression.
All mute things suffer
And are misunderstood
In the great cosmic
Forces that crush.

No longer obvious in form
His verses took the world by storm
And now—with long poetic hair,
You see him fêted everywhere.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The fear o' hell's hang-man's whip
To hound the wretch in order,
But where ye feel your honor grip,
Let that ay be your border.

—Robert Burns.

Honor, says Webster, is a nice sense of what is right, just and true, with strict conformity thereto. Whether or not Hamline students feel that they are possessed of that quality will determine the fate of the revised constitution of the Honor System submitted to them in the columns of this issue.

Right and wrong are matters of discrimination. Consciously or unconsciously human beings must discriminate day by day between those things which they believe to be right and those which they believe to be wrong. Since childhood we have been taught the fundamentals of such discrimination. Honor is more than a sense of discrimination; it implies also an adherence to the results of such action in compliance with the ideals and principles of the individual as dictated by his conscience.

Unfortunately the law of human variation has placed among us certain individuals who through some turn of fate have not been favored with the power of will necessary to comply with their sense of what is "right, just and true." To help these individuals find their places among the more fortunate, so-called honor systems have been invented. Strictly speaking, an honor system would imply that the students be absolutely trusted, without provision of possible detection and punishment. Again the fallibility of human nature confronts us; in some cases the "fear o' hell," so to speak, aids—in fact, is essential—in attaining a uniformity of conduct in matters involving ethical problems.

Thoughts are the golden nuggets of the mind. Unestimable in value, they are the means by which we derive our very existence. Those who take or accept under false pretense the mental workings of another are guilty of as high a crime as may be found listed under larceny in our criminal code. Those who suffer through dishonest appropriation of thought are they who are honestly competing with the miscreant, placing their efforts against his, on an unfair basis. Justice, if such can be obtained, consists in the punishment of the offender, and that can only be accomplished under a system such as that proposed in the revised constitution.

Recognizing the fact that the old constitution contained irregularities and proved inadequate to meet the demands; realizing that an honor system is a marked improvement over the old police system and of the opinion that the revised constitution will, to a greater extent, meet the situation, we suggest that serious consideration be given the document by the entire student body.

Honor is a personal question. It demands personal action. The individuals of Hamline alone, as individuals, can make the Honor System a success or a failure. We feel sure that the majority favor a working Honor System, and we have every reason to believe the revised system to be such an instrument.

—Hamline Oracle.

February 23, 1924.

Editor, The Lawrentian:
As a former student of Lawrence I am still interested in the school and anxious to see her progress whenever it is possible.

By the papers, I notice that there is some attempt to stir the citizens of Neenah to subscribe for the installation of a broadcasting station. The idea is to make it a town affair.

My idea is that the college should have a good broadcasting outfit that would serve the college and the town much as the Memorial chapel has served. The town and college would get an immense amount of good publicity through such an agency.

To make the matter concrete: I notice by the Editor and Publisher that two newspapers are willing to dispose of almost new sets. The Evening Press, Muncie, Indiana, has for sale a good Westinghouse transmitting and receiving set; another newspaper that has been merged with another paper is anxious to sell its outfit. This would be one way to get an outfit at less cost.

The cost of the equipment could be raised in the community in much the same spirit as were the funds for the chapel. The cost would not be large and the benefit would be inestimable and continuous.

News from the school could be broadcasted to the alumni when it was really news and hence a more lively interest would be had toward the college. Programs from the members of the Conservatory would be a feature. Lectures and concerts in the chapel could be enjoyed by an enormous audience in the valley, with much benefit to the audi-

College Must Train For Universal Peace—Hannum

It is the responsibility of college men and women to work for peace, said Professor Robert H. Hannum at Tuesday's chapel, in a discussion of the place of the college student with reference to the need of the world.

Peace is fundamental for social, economic, and moral progress, he said, and cited India, which has found peace on effective source of progress in the last three hundred years as evidence.

Mrs. Marita Wilder Warner, '22, read before the Woman's club in Kaukauna in their rooms in the Kaukauna Public library Wednesday. Her program consisted of a group of musical readings, a group of dialect pieces, and a one-act Irish play, "Marriages made in Heaven and Elsewhere".

ence and to the college and town. The local paper could be served and perhaps some financial arrangement could be made with them to render regular service. A station at Lawrence College opens up unlimited possibilities.

I am writing this letter with the idea of arousing interest in the school. Perhaps T.T.K. could take care of such a campaign and serve to some good purpose and bring glory to themselves in the process.

Yours for a "Better Broadcast Lawrence Spirit,"

Politest Student to Win Scholarship

Columbia Dance Hall Erector Plans to Reward Old-Fashioned Virtues; Will Employ Students.

New York City—A two year scholarship at Columbia University will be awarded to the Columbia student who, in the opinion of a committee of judges, composed of a number of prominent citizens, is Columbia's "most gentlemanly, courteous and efficient" representative. The award has been offered by I. J. Faggan, of New York City, who represents a firm which has leased property from the university, upon which to erect a half-acre dance hall, to be called "Arcadia."

"I am a firm believer in the old fashioned etiquette," said Mr. Faggan, in announcing the scholarship. The clerical work of the dance hall will be put in charge of Columbia students, if possible, and some fifteen or twenty men will be able to find employment there.

Rest-Study Rooms

Rest and study rooms will be supplied for these students so that the employment will interfere as little as possible with the college work.

Man Picked To Fit Suit in Glee Club

Where, oh where, has my dress suit gone,
Oh where, oh where can it be?
With the pants cut short and the coat cut long—
Oh where, oh where can it be?

The old cry that formerly rent the air as the time approached for the members of the men's glee club to array themselves like Astor's plush horses and be on their way, is heard no longer. Under the supervision of Claire Shogran, manager this year of the club, only three men at a time are ushered into the presence of the tape measure. Dress suits, the property of the college, are distributed according to height and width. When not in use the properties are tucked away in big drawers—well-locked—at Penbody hall.

Frosh Hold Valley Champions 18 to 13

Stevens Point High, Coached by Former Lawrentian, Score Win

Coach Bill Smith's newly organized freshmen team gave the strong undefeated Stevens Point high school quint a hard fight last Friday night at Stevens Point, but the Pointers managed to stay ahead at the finish by a score of 18 to 13. The "frosh" team has been reorganized since the recent transfer of the original first year string to the varsity and the fact that they held the veteran Stevens Point team to such a close score speaks well for their future work.

Stevens Point jumped off to an early start and gathered a five point lead in the first half, largely because the Lawrentians were unused to playing together. The first half ended 12 to 7 in favor of Stevens Point.

In the second half the Smithmen found themselves, however, and they played the Pointers even till the end of the game, with Hipke contributing three baskets. Medway and Feldhausen played strong floor games. The lead at the start was too much, however, and the end of the game found the "frosh" trailing 18 to 13.

Is Lawrence Man

Walt Hunting, '22, is coaching the Stevens Point team and has made a remarkable record. His team has won every game and is laying claim to the central valley championship of Wisconsin.

Those making the trip were: Clarke, Medway, Dawley, and Smith, forwards; Hipke, center; Flatland, and Feldhausen, guards.

Roger's Article on Storm Appears Again in Print

Prof. Walter E. Rogers' latest article, entitled "Trees in a Glaze Storm" appeared in the January issue of "Tycoos," a magazine on weather phenomena, which has a circulation of over 20,000.

Since the appearance of Prof. Rogers' article on the sleet storm of two years ago in the "Literary Digest" last October, he has received a large number of requests to contribute articles on this subject for magazine publication. The story in the "Digest" was abridged from Prof. Rogers' original article in the "Wisconsin Magazine," which, in turn, grew out of a technical monograph on the subject in the "Toryea Magazine."

Want Entries In Water Pentathlon Immediately

Students expecting to enter the swimming and diving tournament to be held on Friday afternoon, March 14, are urged to turn in their names at once to Coach A. C. Denny. According to Mr. Denny entries have been coming in rather slow since the announcement of the meet last week. So far five entrants have been received, three in the swimming and two in the diving events. They are: Swimming, Arvil Rich, '27, Donald Gebhardt, '24, and Norman Ingerle, '26; diving, Norman Greenwood, '27, and Howard Aderhold, '27.

Medals will be given to the winner of first place in each of the events. They will be similar to those medals awarded for wrestling with the exception that the plate will bear an engraving of a swimmer.

The swimming pentathlon, which is something new in the list of minor sports at Lawrence is to be held in connection with the high school district basketball tournament to be held here next month under the auspices of the athletic department of the college. As the afternoon of March 14 is the time set for the losing teams to play each other in the semi-finals the swimming meet was set for this time. The meet, which will begin at 3:30 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. pool, is open to everyone, and no admission will be charged.

Carroll Throws Scare In Camp of Beloit "Champs"

Coach Tommy Mills' Beloit Blue Devils received a scare last Friday night, when the speedy Carroll basketball quint led the state-line champs until the last few minutes of play, and only a long basket by McAuliffe, a minute before the whistle, gave Beloit a hard earned victory, 20 to 19.

Carroll led throughout the game, aided largely by baskets by Sterr and Dugan. At the end of the first half Carroll was out in front, 9 to 6. The Beloit team seemed unable to stop the lightning team-work of the Waukesha Pioneers and they were stopped in their attempts to get through the Carroll defense. McAuliffe and Vondrashek were the biggest contributors to the eleventh-hour victory.

Kenosha Girls Win From Lawrence "5"

Good sportsmanship and some excellent playing featured in the Lawrence-Kenosha basketball game played in Alexander gymnasium Saturday night. Although Lawrence came out at the small end of a 15 to 5 score, the girls felt the experience worth while. Lawrence co-eds experienced some bad luck at shooting but displayed promise of good floor work.

Kusch, Kenosha center, with three field goals to her credit, was the outstanding player in the game.

Read Names of Students Suspended

The names of six students suspended from the campus for a period of two weeks because of having been found guilty of violating the college rule which forbids students frequenting neighboring roadhouses were read by Dr. Samuel Plantz in chapel Monday morning. Preceding the announcement, Mrs. Winifred Wilson Quinlan, soprano, of the conservatory faculty, sang a group of songs, "Things of the Night," by Watts, "The Snow-Drop" by Gretchaninow, "The Velvet Darkness" by Reddick, and "The Spring Song of the Robin Woman" from Cadman's "Shauswis."

bert and Ashman were heavy scorers for Lawrence with five baskets each to their credit. The teamwork of Denny's men was like lightning in its speed, particularly in the quick break from defense to offense, and vice versa.

Lawrence Outweighed

Michigan outweighed Lawrence considerably, with the invaders tall and rangy, but this failed to keep the Blue from caging the ball almost at will.

The game started out nip and tuck, for after Lawrence had scored four points on a basket and two free-throws by Ashman, the Miners evened the count by a basket and two freethrows of their own. Immediately thereafter, however, Lawrence hit her stride and led 20 to 7 already at the end of the first half.

"Truth," Main Topic of Washington Day Address

In commemoration of George Washington's birthday, Dean Naylor talked on the subject, "The Importance of Truth," in Chapel on Thursday morning. "The twenty-second of February is dedicated to 'Truth' because it is George Washington's birthday," said the speaker.

"George Washington could not lie," said the speaker. "What he was made it impossible for him to lie. A man made in the image of God cannot lie and remain in that image. The nature out of which the heart of man is built cannot lie."

"Mathematics, physics and chemistry cannot lie. All progress and business that endures is built on truth," continued the speaker. If there were not trust in business, the world would be a place of chaos, he said. Dr. Naylor closed by saying that George Washington is the great figure in history today because his life was built on truth.

Lawrentians May Enroll For Machine Gun Drills

A special invitation has been extended by Captain Grundeman, head of the local machine gun company of the Wisconsin National Guard here, to all men interested in national defense to affiliate with the local company. "Many men are attending college that belong to some company outside of Appleton," said Captain Grundeman. "We want them to feel at home in our company and hope that they will like us well enough to turn out for drills."

Special courses in marksmanship are being offered, and all students have a special opportunity to attend non-commissioned officers' school which is held immediately after drill each Monday night, and is conducted by Captain Fred B. Rogers, regular army instructor.

All men interested are asked to see Donald Kurz or Richard Nelson some time in the near future.

Dorothy Rohrer to Head Student Government Body

Dorothy Rohrer was elected president of W. S. G. A. at the annual election held in the library, Feb. 19th. Miss Rohrer succeeds Francis Meserole. Ina Dunbar Writes Local History in Source Class

Interesting interviews with Appleton historians and old settlers who describe, with picturesque detail, the early days of Appleton and the vicinity, are only a part of the research work being done by Miss Ina Dunbar, '24, under the direction of the class in Sources, in American history. This department has, for the past several years, accumulated considerable data dealing with local history, each year a branch of the work being handled by students. Miss Dunbar's work consists chiefly in securing reminiscences of incidents of the early days of this locality.

"The episodes of early pioneer days certainly are interesting," said Miss Dunbar in expressing her attitude toward her work in an interview with a Lawrentian reporter. "The stories of those who have observed and aided the development of this region contain many exciting as well as interesting and significant incidents."

Modern Language Classes Are Growing at Lawrence

The total enrollment in language courses at Lawrence has increased from 522 in 1922 to 570, according to a statistical table in the "Modern Language Journal." Enrollment in Spanish shows the greatest increase, from 126-172. That in German has increased from 107 to 114, while French shows a slight decrease from 289 to 284.

Of other Wisconsin colleges, Beloit and Ripon show decreases in total enrollment in modern languages and the University of Wisconsin has an increase. Beloit and the University have decreased enrollments in French, while that of Ripon has increased. German shows an increased enrollment in all three of the schools, while Spanish has a smaller enrollment in all three.

Mrs. Cora Crowe Naylor, '97, chose the name "Ariel" which the Lawrence yearbook has carried since its foundation by her class, according to a statement made recently by Mrs. Naylor.

Wrap-Around Still Popular Note In Spring Coats

By Claire

Advance reports from Appleton shops proclaim the wrap-around still the most distinctive style in new spring coats. Sport and dress coats feature the straight line back and side closing.

A sport coat, particularly suited to the flapper co-ed, is of gray Polaire material, made unusual by the clever arrangements of stripes. Horizontal stripes give the much desired "lines." Stripes placed cross-wise on the sides give the suggestion of ultra-fashionable. The collar fashioned with lapels is very boyish,—in all a "classy" coat.

A coat more distinctly for dress-up is of taupe Bolivia. The bottom of the coat has material set in opposite directions forming a stripe pattern that is very effective. The sleeves have a wide flaring cuff starting almost at the elbow. The collar is a stand-up, the side finished with a large ornamental buckle.

Sunset Players will present three plays on March 13 instead of March 14 as originally planned. The plays will be coached by three student directors, assisted by Miss Margaret Sherman, of the Dramatic Arts department. Miss Walda Rusch, '26, is in charge of "The Turtle Dove," Harriet Pearson, '26, of "The Brink of Silence," and Iva Hutchinson, '24, of "The Pot Boiler."
